- Is the licence completely speculative?
- We don't know who the potential owner is
- Appears to be fast-tracking process
- "Fit and proper person" assessment - what does ESC look at?

Should consider -

- Consider communication to landholders
- False statements in landholder guide
- My questions on insurance have not been answered.
- Genuine Consultation to assist community.

"Does the TCV sit within the Charter, extended definition?"

What will it achieve, cost of electricity vs food (growing), like for like

Privacy considerations – actively putting together information. Sell on to someone else. How will that be dealt with?

Who is the body (applying for the licence)?

Flexibility of licensing condition.

Who gets the profits of the sale of TCV?

What about breach of licence conditions?

Who is going to pay for decommissioning? Should money be put aside

Behaviour

I see fit and proper as being honest, accountable – how is their ownership accountable.

Community engagement is a fail

What happens in 15-20 years?
