

Minimum feed-in tariff 2023-24

Submission received through Engage Victoria

Date submitted: 8/1/2023

Submission written by: Shaun Thorpe

From December 2022, we began accepting submissions on our Minimum feed-in tariff review 2023-24 via Engage Victoria (www.engage.vic.gov.au). On this website, people were given the opportunity to send us a response to a set of questions we provided.

What parts of our proposed methodology for setting the minimum single and time-varying feed-in tariff rates do you consider are appropriate?

Using forecasted prices and having a time of use Ft

What parts of our proposed methodology should we change?

The off-peak FIT should be doubled to encourage household participation and take-up of new technologies. If household are to be part of the solution then they should be paid closer to market rates which would improve payback of new technology and change consumer behaviour.

For our overall methodology, or parts of it, what alternative methodologies should we consider?

The current calculations appear to favour the producers and suppliers, and don't support individual household behaviour changes and the take-up of new household technologies.